

Visiting Fredericksburg

Come take a tour of the Amelia Square site and make a vacation out of it!

Brush Strokes Gallery October Exhibit

Daily through October 28th

This month Brush Strokes Gallery is featuring Nancy Williams with her exhibit entitled "Out of the Box." Her paintings will include oils, acrylics, and mixed media. For more information on this exhibit, visit www.brushstrokesfredericksburg.com

Amelia Square: Just outside historic district

But already making history

The Amelia Square construction site has been buzzing with the discovery of 19th century pottery believed to be the creation of Fredericksburg potter Francis H. Bell. To view the entire article, please visit: <http://bit.ly/TVdZWxv>

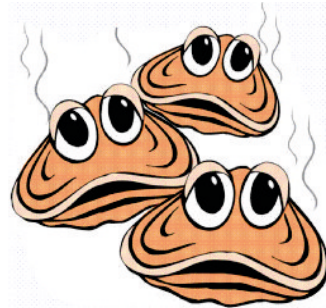

Roastin' on the Rivah!

October 27th 5-10pm

Mary Washington Hospital Foundation is hosting an all-you-can-eat oyster feast benefitting the Lloyd F. Moss Free Clinic. There will be plenty of roasted, fried, raw, and stewed oysters. Come enjoy the delicious food and live music by Wake the Neighbors! Get your tickets today!

<http://bit.ly/OCID4U>

Amelia Square going vertical!

Ground work is being finished this week

This luxury brownstone community is starting vertical construction in the coming weeks! With the first phase of homes already sold we are accepting contracts on Phase Two. It's time to act as there are only four homes available in Phase Two! Visit the website for more information:

www.AmeliaSquareTownhomes.com

ELITE